

Biography: Representative Scott Rigell

Representative Rigell is serving in his first term in the United States House of Representatives, having the privilege of representing Virginia's 2nd Congressional District. This is his first elected office.

Scott's mission and passion in serving in Congress is job creation. As an entrepreneur and business owner, Scott is a strong, consistent voice in Congress fighting for America's true job creators: the hard working small business owner.

The DNA of the Marine Corps runs deep in Scott's family. His father is an Iwo Jima Marine, and Scott served six years in the Marine Corps Reserve while attending college.

In Congress, Scott serves on three committees that closely match the needs of the 2nd District: the House Armed Services Committee, the Committee on Homeland Security, and the Committee on Science, Space and Technology.

Scott and his wife, Teri, are greatly blessed with four children, two fine sons-in-law, and TWO grandchildren, Parks and Reese, who inspire Scott to make decisions based not on what is best for the next election, but what is best for the next generation of Americans.
